Jobs in WA Disability Services

Jobs in WA Disability Services is a new website that enables job seekers and employers across the State to increase the number of workers in Western Australia's disability sector.

Established by the National Disability Services WA (NDS), in partnership with the Department of Communities, the website can link skilled workers whose employment has been impacted as a result of COVID-19 with employers needing additional staff during the pandemic.

If you have experience working in customer facing roles, including in the disability, community or health sectors, head to Jobs in WA Disability Services to register your interest in working in the disability sector.

Read Minister Stephen Dawson's media release for more information.

The Department of Communities acknowledges the traditional owners of country throughout Western Australia and their connection to land, waters and community. We pay our respects to them and their cultures, and to their elders past and present.

The Department of Communities (Communities) formed on 1 July 2017 and is responsible for the delivery of child protection and family support, community grants, funding and initiatives, education and care regulation, disability services, housing and regional services reform. During the transition phase emails sent from the Housing Authority domain will be converted to the Communities email address.
