YOU ARE INVITED TO SPSW'S FIRST QUARTERLY FORUM FOR 2010

Intra-familial Homicide and the Intergenerational Transmission of Trauma – Implications for Practice

Presented by

Dr Carolyn Harris Johnson,
Lecturer, School of Occupational Therapy & Social Work,
Faculty of Health, Curtin University of Technology

7.00 pm – 9.00 pm, Thursday, 18th March 2010

Dept. for Child Protection/Dept of Health Canteen Area,
189 Royal Street, East Perth

- Hear details of WA-based research that examined all homicides involving family/intimate partners over a 10 year period
- Learn from interviews with perpetrators and families what factors may have contributed to the homicide or made intervention strategies ineffective
- Find out the links between attachment theory and neurobiology of trauma as they relate to familial homicides
- Consider what this means for your practice with families where violence is present

Presentation will follow with time for questions
